Not Just For Baby Boomers - Living Strong In A 50+ World

Boulder, CO October 12, 2004- As baby boomers begin to turn 60, the largest generation in history is exploring retirement and healthcare choices that will impact their families and our economy. According to an AARP white paper, Baby Boomers Envision Their Retirement, those who have thought most about their retirement are the most optimistic about it.

To assist consumers in gathering retirement data, U of C Federal Credit Union is presenting a series of interrelated seminars, October 19th - 28th. Titled ‘Living Strong in a 50+ World’, the series addresses quality of life, medical options and safety issues facing seniors, families, caregivers and adults of all ages.

“Now is the time to consider the important decisions that will effect you and your family in the future. This series to designed for adults of all ages to provide options and encourage intergenerational dialogue,” said Rich Jones, Marketing Vice President.

Experts in the fields of healthcare, taxes, retirement and personal privacy will present objective, updates on the latest developments in their industries. Providing quality speakers and resources on the latest decisions impacting consumers is part of U of C Federal Credit Union’s RealityCheck consumer education program.

Seminars will take place at U of C Federal Credit Union, 2300 55th Street, Boulder. Unless otherwise noted, all seminars are free and open to public.
