Briefcase Submission: Jeffrey Kash, Community Development Manager at Elevations Credit Union, proudly accepted the Community Partner Award on Sat., May 11 from the League of Women Voters of Boulder County (LWVBC). The Community Partner Award is presented annually to recognize outstanding support of the mission of LWVBC to empower voters and defend democracy.

Kash regularly hosts events at Elevations in support of the mission of LWVBC including panel discussions, voter registration training, seminars and documentary screenings. The documentary screening of “I Voted?” in 2017 led to the formation of Elevations’ wildly successful Classic Film Series. The film series features monthly free-and-open-to-the-public showings of curated classic movies with a community of fiercely loyal participants.

The series regularly includes screenings with LWVBC. Last summer, Kash organized the screening of 1948 film “State of the Union” co-starring Katharine Hepburn and Spencer Tracy. This summer, Elevations and co-host LWVBC are proud to present the 80th anniversary of “Mr. Smith Goes to Washington,” starring Jimmy Stewart. The screening will be held on Tues., June 11 from 7:30-9:30 p.m. at 1 Environmental Way in Broomfield. For information about this event and more, visit elevationscu.com/events.
Kash was honored alongside four Community Partners: Senator Mike Foote, Colorado National Popular Vote’s Linda Sorauf and Sylvia Bernstein, and Boulder artist Faith Gowan. Learn more about LWVBC’s mission at www.lwvbc.org.
