Buffalo Bicycle Classic Announces Elevations Credit Union Sponsorship Renewal Through 2026 with Annual Contribution of $50,000

New Full Tuition Scholarship Created for a BBC Scholar at University of Colorado Boulder

July 10, 2018 – BOULDER CO - Elevations Credit Union is excited to announce the renewal of its sponsorship for the Buffalo Bicycle Classic (BBC) through 2026, and increased its annual support to $50,000 per year. Elevations, along with CU’s College of Arts & Sciences, is a founding sponsor of the event, which was created in 2003 to raise scholarship funds for CU Boulder students.

Due to the continued support and generosity of Elevations Credit Union, the BBC is pleased to announce the creation of the Elevations Credit Union Buffalo Bicycle Classic Scholarship. This full tuition scholarship will be awarded annually to a continuing BBC scholar based on their excellent academic record at CU and their demonstrated commitment to academic and community service.

“We couldn’t be more thrilled to make a real impact in the lives of deserving students in our community,” said Dennis Paul, VP of Business and Community Development at Elevations Credit Union. “Since 2003, we’ve been proud to support the efforts of the Buffalo Bicycle Classic, and we look forward to the next chapter of our relationship.”

The Buffalo Bicycle Classic has raised over 3.6 million dollars to support more than 400 CU Boulder students through scholarships since 2003. The students served by the BBC are some of Colorado’s brightest; each entering CU with over a 4.0 high school GPA. BBC student scholars also demonstrate strong financial need.

“The BBC organization, scholars and riders, are profoundly grateful for Elevations’ unwavering support,” said Rosie Allen, Buffalo Bicycle Classic Ride & Scholarship Manager. “Because of this type of investment, we are able to help support approximately 50 top Colorado high school graduates each year.”
